Program description

The aim of the Bachelor of International Business (IBB) program is to provide students with appropriate professional qualifications in international business and related economic, social, and political areas, and to prepare them for lifelong learning. Students in the program will acquire knowledge and develop competences in the areas of international business, economics, entrepreneurship, logistics and supply chain management, world economics, mathematics, and intercultural skills. Graduates of the program are equipped with superior language skills and will succeed in the changing multicultural environment of international business. The core values of the program are respect for the ethical dimension of international business and compliance with the principles of diversity, equality, and inclusion. The program is suitable for talented students who wish to apply themselves in the multicultural environment of international business, are interested in its aspects in the broad context of international economic, social, legal, and political relations, and wish to further develop their extended knowledge of foreign languages. Graduates of the program will find employment mainly in multinational companies, national companies operating in foreign markets and in international or governmental institutions, in specialist positions or in junior and middle management positions. At the same time, graduates are prepared to succeed with their own business plans and objectives, or to continue with their education at master's level.
